Cober Plucker is a litigator and appellate attorney with the Phoenix, Arizona law firm of Milligan Lawless, P.C.

Cober's mission is to help his clients win cases by effectively telling their story. The more complex the case, the more critical it is for an attorney to master the facts and skillfully relay them in a way that is compelling to judges, jurors, mediators, and even opposing parties. Throughout his career, Cober has honed this art and used it to help his clients navigate disputes surrounding contract obligations, business partnerships, property ownership, fraud allegations, torts and product liability claims, and regulatory compliance. In addition to his trial court experience in Arizona and Washington, Cober has briefed and argued cases before the Arizona Court of Appeals and the U.S. Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Cober also understands the unique needs and challenges of business, as he served as corporate counsel for a global agriculture company.

In his spare time, Cober can be found skiing tall mountains.
